

Amalgamated Locksmiths are proud to be Lockwood GEN6TX dealers

Lockwood GEN6TX

Part of the Lockwood range of legally protected keying platforms, GEN6TX provides simple, cost-effective key control. GEN6TX stands out as the perfect solution for applications both small and large, where key control can be easily managed without the added cost associated with a more premium restricted keying system.

Effective Key Control

In addition to physical security, key control is a fundamental aspect of any restricted keying system. Each GEN6TX key blank is distributed through our comprehensive but secure dealer network, so the risk of unauthorised key duplication is eliminated. This ensures only authorised personnel can obtain keys for their system.

Legal Key Control

Key control is fundamental to the security of your building. Legal protection has been afforded to the GEN6TX keying platform in the form of patents in Australia, as well as design registration in both Australia and New Zealand.

High Quality Australian Manufacturing

The Lockwood brand is known throughout Australia for its commitment to local manufacturing and high-quality products, and GEN6TX is no exception. All barrels and keys are manufactured in ASSA ABLOY Opening Solution's Oakleigh facility to the highest degree of precision and quality.
